Lost In Darkness

Escape The Fate

She hears a moan at the top of the stairs
But she don't move or fret, just minds her business
"I swear these walls have been talking to me", she says
"Cause all I hear are the devils wishes"
She feels his breath down her skin and bones
Crying out in pain
But no one knows how to find you
You're lost in darkness
Crying out in vain
But no one knows how to reach you
You're lost in darkness again
By her hair he drags her in the street
He's free of others eyes, there are no glances
She cries for help with a gun to her cheek
But no one comes, nobody listens
Her blood runs red all through the street
Crying out in pain
But no one knows how to find you
You're lost in darkness
Crying out in vain
But no one knows how to reach you

You're lost in darkness
You're lost in darkness again
I can't find my inspiration
I can't find my inspiration
I can't find my inspiration
I can't find my inspiration
Crying out in pain
But no one knows how to find you
You're lost in darkness
Crying out in vain
But no one knows how to reach you
You're lost in darkness
Crying out again
No one knows how to find you
You're lost in darkness
Crying out in vain
No one knows how to reach you

You're lost in darkness
You're lost in darkness again
