

Done Is Done

Millencolin

You dont know what youre looking for
Youre lost in the past
You dont know who you are any more
How long will it last?Well, it will last as long as youre gone
In the future or past
Theres a crusher ahead
Make up your mind real fastSince yesterday I would let you go
Are you happy if the answer is no?
There is certainly time to make it so, yeahWhats done is done, you need to set your ways
And that is you, you in your future days
Mistakes and slams are made by everyone
So, please accept whats done is doneYou dont know what you are any more
Just know where youve been
It doesnt matter how it all was before, let the present begin
Big decision for a man in the daze to leave the haze, yeahWhats done is done, you need to set your ways
And that is you, you in your future days
Mistakes and slams are made by everyone
So, please accept whats done is done, whats done is doneMovement is a sign of life, keep moving forward, life
There is no going back from here in spite of all your fight
Theres no point in blaming yourself for the wrongs youve done
The game that is really numb, no need to be on the runWhats done is done, you need to set your ways
And that is you, you in your future days
Mistakes and slams are made by everyone
So, please accept whats done is done
Whats done is done, whats done is doneSo, please accept whats done is done
Whats done is done, whats done is done
So, please accept whats done is done
Whats done is done
