Say Hello

Nitin Sawhney

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Another speaker was Mr Enoch Powell who was sacked from the shadow cabinet earlier this year, for his extreme and publicly stated views on immigration.
[Background:]
I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the colour of their skin but by the content of their character.I know you needed a friend
I know you needed some blue skies
You need some laughter again
Till magic returns to your blue eyesYou're lost in a circle of pain
Where's it all going?
Each day is, the same
Where are you going?Say hello, say hello
You're never alone
Say hello, say hello
You're never aloneSomething inside of yourself
When darkness approaches your silence
Freedom's forgotten her name
Nothing makes sense you don't complainEverything started to fall
Where's it all going?
Can't make any sense of it all
Where am I going?Say hello, say hello
You're never alone
Say hello, say hello
You're never alone
