

How Many

Jim Reeves

If all the guys you ever knew were standing here in front of you
I wonder just how many there would be
If everyone you ever kissed was put on paper in a list
I wonder just how many there would be
You must have kissed a million for everywhere we go
You seem so well acquainted the way they smile and say hello
If I could count their broken hearts like I would have if we should part
I wonder just how many there would be
[steel]
If all the guys you ever knew...

Songwriters

Blair, Hal / Barnes, Howard
Published by
Lyrics © EMI Music Publishing, Ultra Tunes

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>