Regret

Scott Ruth

Well this road I'm on is gonna fold and turn to sand
And I'll miss the years this all was easier
I'll say hello to all the love I could've had
If I only took the time to be here

I took off with your picture in my head
I was looking for some kind of answer
If I had a chance to make you understand
I might've let you in a little earlier

I know I left you with a mountain of regret
Now you're thinking back on how you lost it
There's a list of things I know I should've said
But I was unsure of what I needed
