

Broken One

Trivium

Defeat grips you
Life deflates you
Killed your hopes too
You won't make it through Pick up the pieces
There is another way
Put yourself together
Try to make a change This world's so twisted
You can still make a change
Protect and care for all around
Stop the spread of hate You feel like the broken one
Over and over again
You taste blood, you're through, you're done
Only you can make it end
