

Ache

James Carrington

Isn't it strange the way things can change
Life that you lead turned on its head
Suddenly someone means more than you felt for
House and its yard turns into home
Sorry but I meant to say many things along the way
This one's for you Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache, for you Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache, for you The time that it took Writing words for my book
Seems to have broken off
The gate that I shut
Last time I got hurt
Seems to have opened itself Oh the world is spinnin' now
It's tryna catch me up
Tell me to appreciate, here and now
I'm sorry but I meant to say
Many things along the way
This ones for you Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache, for you Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache
Have I told you I ache, for you

Songwriters

Carrington James Anthony Published by

EMI APRIL MUSIC, INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>