Take Everything

Mazzy Star

I can't believe your thinking Save everyone, inside you Take everything Fake everything Save everything About meAll of you, all right Just because, I want to know Do you still come last night clear eyes pale? You never got there even though you say you will Sorry now that you've fallen from my eyes That's the truthWhy are you telling me about everything? Why are you telling me about anything? You're just waiting for her to come apart You're just waiting for herTake everything Fake everything Save everything
