When You Need a Laugh

Patsy Cline

You can't imagine how it hurts me
To have you treat me like you do
Knowing that my love is just a joke to you
But I'll take it just to see you and laugh as teardrops fallSo when you need a laugh, give me a callEverybody says I'm crazy to let you treat me this way
But I can't explain, so what else can I say
At least I'm on your mind when you're laughin'
Somehow that breaks the fallSo when you need a laugh, give me a callI'd gladly trade the laugh you get for making fun of me
To be around the one I love and need so desperately
So even if the laugh's on me, I don't mind at allSo when you need a laugh, give me a call
So when you need a laugh, give me a call
