Between the Lines

MONKEY MAJIK

And she's all I need
I see her everywhere
Don't mean to stare
Between the lines
Different facesIf you would notice me
At the right time
At the right place
I know you'd like
What I have to offer youWe should get away(And) I would give anything, if anything would please you
And you wouldn't care about all of my imperfectionsYou could be waiting
In the same line at the same time
You could be dreaming
Similar things that I do
And you could be waiting
So long that it never comes
But I don't mind waiting
Maybe waiting is all I needAnd she's all I need
I see her everywhere
Don't mean to stare
Between the lines
Different facesIf you would notice me
At the right time
At the right place
I know you'd like
What I have to offer youWe should get awayI would give anything, if anything would please you
And you wouldn't care about all of my imperfections
You could be waiting
In the same line at the same time
You could be dreaming
Similar things that I do
And you could be waiting
So long that it never comes
But I don't mind waiting
Maybe waiting is all I needYou could be waiting
In the same line at the same time
You could be dreaming
Similar things that I do
And you could be waiting
So long that it never comes

But I don't mind waiting
Maybe waiting is all I need
