How Could You Call Her Baby

Shanna

Baby, baby
Don't try to play me
You know something's wrong
That's why I'm not talkin' to you
Baby, baby
Don't even fake it
You have broke my heart
And there's nothing you can doI tried to call you, just the other day
And your own sister told me
Someone was takin' my place, oh
You wouldn't come to the phone
She forgot to put me on hold
And I can't believe what I heard
What I heard in your very own words
How could you call her...[1] - How could you call her baby?
How could she be your lady?
Thought you were mine
Thought I was yours
How could you call her sweetheart?
How come you're breakin' my heart?
How could you be so wrong?Baby, baby
Hear what I'm saying
I am not your fool
You should see me now as gone
Baby, baby
You must think I'm crazy
I will not come back
I feel I have been too wrongedDon't try to call me
'Cause I don't have the time
I'll be much, much too busy
Hangin' out with friends of mine, oh
If we meet in the street
You should not even bother to speak
'Cause I still hear the words in my head
Those are some words I will never forget
How could you call her...[Repeat 1]Boy, you owe me an apology
Just don't look for forgiveness from me
And I tried my best to understand
But I've done for you all that I can

If I ever see you in the street
Just forget that you ever knew me
'Cause I still hear the words in my head
Those are some words I will never forget
How could you call...[Repeat 1 to fade]
