Not Going Anywhere

Keren Ann

This is why I always wonder
I'm a pond full of regrets
I always try to not remember
Rather than forgetThis is why I always whisper
When vagabonds are passing by
I tend to keep myself away
From their goodbyesTide will rise and fall along the bay
And I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhere
People come and go and walk away
But I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhereThis is why I always whisper
I'm a river with a spell
I like to hear but not to listen
I like to say but not to tellThis is why I always wonder
There's nothing new under the sun
I won't go anywhere
So give my love to everyoneTide will rise and fall along the bay
And I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhere
People come and go and walk away
But I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhereTide will rise and fall along the bay
And I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhere
They come and go and walk away
But I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhere
They come and go and walk away
But I'm not going anywhere, I'm not going anywhere
