Long Way to Love

Britny Fox

I see the love deep in your eyes
You let the love, grow in my mindIn the morning sun, I see your face
I can feel your love and your embraceYou fell in love right from the start
It has to last from falling apartIn the morning sun, I see your face
I can feel your love and your embraceLong way, long way to love
Long way, long way to loveYour fires kept warm in my heart
You feed the flame from going outIn the morning sun, I see your face
I can feel your love and your embraceLong way, long way to love
Long way, long way to loveLong way, long way to love
Long way, long way to love, yeahLong way, long way to love
Long way, long way to loveLong way, long way to love
Long way, long way to love, yeah
