Miracles (Instrumental)

Dovid Pearlman & C. Neuhaus

Do you close your eyes and stop for a minute
Just to imagine a scene
Come take a walk and see yourself standing
In a beautiful garden serene

See the vibrant rose as it comes to life
Smell the orchids white like snow
A breathtaking picture
Perfection beyond your dreams

One closer look, catch every detail
Explore every petal with care
A dazzling array of countless bright colors
Each shade is special and dear

And when the softest stray
Flutters to the ground
To awaken a sleeping world
Now the secret of its beauty soon unfolds

Theres this feeling that takes hold of me
As Iâ€™m drawn into this picture
Into thus scene and suddenly I seem to find
My place in your design

Like every sunset brings another sunrise and
Every winter fades away
Into the spring and suddenly I seem to find
My place in your design

So when I open up my eyes I sing to you
In wonder of the world renewed each morning
For each breath of life I sing to you
Thereâ€™s something new to see in every dawn

And Iâ€™ll praise in my own way
For your light shines on every day
As Iâ€™m learning how to see all your miracles
Unfoldâ€¦

And with the rising sun my soul has wings
Iâ€™m grateful for this chance your giving me
To lift up my own voice in harmony
To join as one with all of your creations

Singing for eternity
Reflecting your glory
As Iâ€™m learning how to see all your miracles
Unfoldâ€¦
