The Victim

Hexx

You've been set up one too many times
A perfect victim for the perfect crime
You left yourself wide open to the pain
So close your eyes now, you're out walkin' in the rainYou've got a burning desire to be the victim
You're bleeding from the soul, you're hurting from the heart
Things you can't be told are gonna tear you apartYour choice of lovers, never very bright
Your father worried, but even he gave up the fight
You always think their hearts are made of gold
And you're the savior, to coax the warmth out of the coldYou've got a burning desire to be the victim
You're bleeding from the soul, you're hurting from the heart
Things you can't be told are gonna tear you apart
'Cause you're the victimBreak the pattern, you've gotta break away
Break the pattern before it gets too lateYou've got a burning desire to be the victim
You're bleeding from the soul, you're hurting from the heart
Things you're never told are gonna tear you apart
'Cause you're the victim
