Reality

Adhitia Sofyan

I have been trying lately to close my eyes
Those little lambs complaining they're getting tired
Try as I may and I would fell off my bed
I know just what the cure is it's gonna work
I need to get you by my side
There's no other wayBut every time I try to catch you I stumble and I fall
How do I begin to finish this never ending fairy tale
I need to get back to reality
Every time you do that thing the thing you always do
I ended up in misery while starring at your photograph
I'm loosing my grip to realityI woke up turn on the TV for a thousand times
Reruns I've seen to many on the animal show
The tiger runs after the dear and he finally catches onI see the end of the rainbow not far away
This time I'm gonna let it slide
