Pretty Face

Rival Sons

I come down from my ? with
? set it all straight
But what I saw through my screen door
Is more than any man can tolerateIf I go, if I go
You know I'm never coming back again
If I stay, if I stay
I know that this is gonna just crack againYou're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty faceNever that thought a memory
Would leave me with such an open wound
But watching him all over you
On the floor of my living roomI got to go, got to go
Before I let it all go to black
You wanna come
You can come
You'll have to do it laying there on your backYou're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty faceYou're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
You're just another pretty face
