

Same Problem

Bodyjar

I wish that I could read your mind
Would it be cold and dark inside?
There's so many questions that
I'm second guessing, I can't decide Who keeps the things you throw away?
The bottles, the pills, the razor blades
I know in my heart I could see from the start
That you'd fade away I'm not gonna to make you change your mind
I'm not gonna be the one that sits around in denial
There's no other reason I can find
There's no one to blame but yourself Live a lie in denial
I'm gonna make you see
Same problem, same remedy Live in a dark reality
Misplace responsibility
At the end of the day
I just know either way I'll be left behind So make it tonight, I'll be all right
I will forget every lie that you said
You feel let down again, when
You get left out again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>