Caribou (Manitoba)

Your full moon taunts me You put me, you put me on yourself You've been at yourself You woke me up last night and my eyes lit up like lights like a string of pearls but you still did what you wanted and all the time it took you to get your self straight all that time it took you to get your self straight
 all that time it took you to get yourself straight was too late
so work harder for the things you made in me
 And your full moon taunts me And your thoughts they got me got me in

 got me in
and all the time it took you to get your self straight
 all that time it took you to get your self straight
 all that time it took you to get yourself straight
 was too late
so work harder for the things you made in me Did i reset what I started?
 Did I resist what I wanted?
 Do I think you've got my number?
 I'm not the one to continue on.
all that time it took you to get yourself straight
 was too late
so work harder for the things you made in me
