left behind

moonlight awakening

[Emma Kiernan]This world is full of truth covered lies are you a dream come true?
or a nightmare in disguise?If I knew my life would be over in a night would I be saying something real? would I be brave enough to feel?A sun is never late for a rise and history fools, its never kind but will a craving child wake before they die?How come in order to live, something has to die?
why does the threat of death make me feel alive?I'm leaving for a heaven that I have never seen, I hope its like they say I hope its like my dreams.
