

Devoe

My Jerusalem

Take your crooked fingers
Chase them like a map around my (wrist)
 Perfect little creature
 Sway into the pulse inside my chest

Come back down I don't wanna wake up yet
Fall back down wrestle my arms until I bend

Every little (whimper) and every little bone
Could break me like the ocean underneath your stone

Heavier your breathing
Push all of your weight against my ribs
 Tangled up (...)
 Tied into your skin and teeth and hair

Come back down i don't wanna lose you yet
Pull me down if you see me you gasp for air

Every little whimper and every little bone
Could break me like the ocean underneath your stone

And in the morning I will be gone
 Oh settle down
 If I could be what you wanted
 Not fuck around
Like everyone else you want it... want it
Under the night we only want to be someone for someone else

Sentimental people
All you say such silly little things
 Dancing over the memory
 Always better than the real thing lead me now

I don't want to miss a step
Throw me out if it hasn't happened yet

Every little whimper and every little bone

Could break me like the ocean underneath your stone

And in the morning I will be gone

Oh settle down

If I could be what you wanted

Not fuck around

Like everyone else you want it, want it

Under the night we only want to be someone for someone else

Under the night we only want to be someone for someone x 7 else.

Lyrics submitted by Alex.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>