

Not Directly

Dilba

Dilba

Up the stairs locked up safely distance fulfills its meaning As fear comes closer bravely to release this well-known feeling I'm not unhappy, not directly Just a bit cold and comfortably lonely
But I hope I will eventually dare to defy my funny reasons or at least try...
Find a spot, an empty space
Another room, another place
As my lonely wishes starts I'm secretly lost in the dark If a chance would accidentally come my way
I would take it, wouldn't let it slip away, j no
But until that day I'll be here hiding convincing myself I'm really trying...
To find a spot, an empty space Another room, another space
If the mask falls off or in case
One of us would change our ways
