Life Defined

Before You Exit

I thought you were the one,
but then I turned away
Now it's been said and done
You knew I wouldn't stay

Things I said came to be,
are my worst enemy
But now life's made me see, you mean so much

Because I thought I couldn't find anything, until I found you

We all fight this war sometime
Somewhere between what's wrong and right
So many things I can't describe Lookin' for the answer, to life defined

You thought I was the one I was yours and you were mine
Why did I have to run?
Could I go back in time?

I thought I couldn't find anything,
until I found you

We all fight this war sometime
Somewhere between what's wrong and right
So many things I can't describe
Lookin' for the answer, to life defined

We all fight this war sometime
With broken hearts, so left behind
We all fight this war sometime
Somewhere between what's wrong and right
So many things, I can't describe Lookin' for the answer, lookin' for the answer, lookin' for the answer,
to life defined
