

Always

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Out of nowhere you came
From a little dust and a little rain
And when I looked down on your face

It showed to me the truth and graceI will always try to keep you very safeSo open up your eyes

So they can look in mine

And see your small reflectionAnd when you close your eyes

I pray the thoughts inside

Are beautiful and trueI won't always be this strong

And I won't always be the one

To kiss the bruise or heal the scrapes

To wipe the tear drops from your faceAnd I will always love you more each daySo open up your eyes

So they can look in mine

And see your small reflectionAnd when you close your eyes

I pray the thoughts inside

Are beautiful and trueI will always love you more each day

I will always try to keep you safeSo open up your eyes

So they can look in mine

And see your small reflectionAnd when you close your eyes

Are beautiful and trueI will always, I will always love you
