Sometimes

Earshot

Don't think because you fell apart
That all is lost
Cause I think what now you have become
Is better than could ever be
Sometimes you have to tell yourselfSometimes, it's better than to lose yourselfSometimes the words rephrased
The confusion breaks
And it all becomes too much to understand
(Sometimes it's just too much)
I think that all that they have done
Has turned into obscurity
When will we ever say enough?Sometimes, it's better than to lose yourself
Sometimes, it's better than to lose yourselfKnow that we should never ever try to be Trapped inside a world of animosity
It's a crazy, crazy thought to comprehend
And before you think or even try to speak
Don't believe the words, don't you be deceived
From this moment, from this day on!Sometimes you have to tell yourself!
(Sometimes you have to tell yourself)
(Sometimes you have to tell yourself)
(Sometimes you have to tell yourself)No, no, no, no, SOMETIMES!Sometimes, it's better than to lose yourself
SOMETIMES, it's better than to lose yourselfDon't lose yourself
Don't become like them and lose yourself
