

Any Day Woman (Remastered Version)

Bonnie Raitt

If you don't love her, you'd better let her go
You'll never fool her, you're bound to let it show
Love's so hard to take when you have to fake
Everything in return, you just preserve her
When you serve her a little tenderness If she's a woman, she'll try to make it last
If you're a man now you'd better end it fast
There's no reason here, no treason here
Just the way a woman's mind, well she has no name
She has no shame, she just loves you It's not easy to undo what's done
Or to speak too freely to just anyone
And if this takes more than you bargained for Boy it's time you learn, not to talk so loud
Walk so proud when you're comin' on
