

Flag Of Convenience

Naked Eyes

It's changing your colors every other day
You're changing your point of view, it's just your way
You told me that this was something new to you
But I'm not the only one you're lying to So you go, you go and unroll the flag
Flag of convenience
So you go, you go and unroll the flag
Flag of convenience You say that we could be friends for life
But I can't pretend I haven't got the time So you go, you go and unroll the flag
Flag of convenience
So you go, you go and unroll the flag
Flag of convenience
Flag of convenience! It's changing your colors every other day
You're changing your point of view, it's just your way
You told me that this was something new to you
But I'm not the only one you're lying to So you go, you go and unroll the flag
Flag of convenience
So you go, you go and unroll the flag
Flag of convenience
Flag of convenience!
Flag of convenience
Flag of convenience!
Flag of convenience
Flag of convenience!

Songwriters

Byrne, Peter James / Fisher, Rob Published by

Lyrics © Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd., Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>