

The Driveway

Miley Cyrus

After twelve, not so well Won't pretend it's too soon to tell what's 'round this bend No disgrace, about face anything not to have to chase you down again

You know nothing hurts like losing when you know it's really gone except for the pain of choosing to hold on

(Chorus)

I tried it your way, but I've got nothing to show you know it's been the same, same and story's getting old so I guess the driveway, will be the end of the road for us it's too late let the credits start to roll.

Lot to say, but not today let radio break the silence as we drive a kiss goodbye, not this time Don't remember what about this song,
I ever liked

You know nothing hurts like losing when you know I'm really gone
except for the pain of choosing to hold on

and the story's getting old
so I guess the driveway will be the end of the road
For us it's too late, let the credits start to roll.

I thought maybe we were getting somewhere be we're still nowhere at all I watched your tail lights fading
I try but it still won't fall I remember what it feels like to know love and have it taken away can't think of what I've learned right now but I'll begging you someday...

I tried it your way, but I've got nothing to show
you know it's been the same, same but the story's getting old
so I guess the driveway, will be the end of the road
for us it's too late, let the credits start to roll.

Let the credits start to roll
So I guess the driveway....
Will be the end of the road, be the end of the road.
