No-One Understands

Space

I'm a man and you're a man and we don't understand
Why the world is such a funny shape it is so bland
If I wanted to kill or assassinate the queen
They would only lock me up and throw away the keyThen you'd never get out
Then you'd never get inNo one understands me
No one understands
No one understands me
No one understandsIf I wanted to be someone I think I would be
Margaret thatcher she's so cool I think she should be queen
Now if you should agree with this then I think you should be Hung and drawn and quartered and then thrown into the seaAnd then you'd never get out
Because you can't swimNo one understands me
No one understands
No one understands me
No one understandsNo one understands me
No one understands
No one understands me
No one understandsNo one understands me
No one understands
No one under, no one under
No one understands meNo one understands me
No one understands
No one under, no one under
No one understands me
