

Live Again (Jason Voorhees vs. Michael Myers)

Sevendust

Feeling Nothing

Lonely Empty

You try to walk away but you fall

You cannot understand what's this for In this world I see it more

The pain you feel that I ignore You see my face and then you see nothin'

Confused. you turn and live on

I turn my face

You're staring back again

Look at yourself and live again Can't see me. you feel me

Want me. you'll find me

I'll be your everything

Will you call

You'll need more & more

When you fall In this world I see it more

The pain you feel that I ignore You see my face and then you see
nothing

Confused. you turn and live on

I turn my face

You're staring back again

Look at yourself and live again How many times have you looked

At yourself & felt mistreated

How does it feel to know that

This life of yours is real

All of your life you've been led

To believe your nothin'

So look at yourself and start to live again You see my face and then you see

nothing

Confused you turn and live on

I turn my face

You're staring back again

Look at yourself and live again If you don't change you'll be nothin' So look at yourself and live again I turn my face

You're staring back again So look at yourself and live again
