

We Are One

Michael Blaney

You would have never seen me on any ole busy street the way we met it was just like some kind of pure fictional fantasy we traveled atop mountains and rivers wild streams we slayed the dragon and brought the Evil to its knees

as two steps away from the volcono's edge we are enslaved upon this carriage built for us we know not what it takes but it takes us all the way and as they try to mutiny build their armies trojan horses statuesque but we are locked on to each other flesh to flesh

And as our trampled bodies lie among the masses we clasp hand to hand and pull each other through the wreckage

and the buildings as they fall all around us we dont blink an eye as we walk through them

and all the tricks they try to cram down our throats like wilted lillies ripped fresh from their throats

and as we go to those final doors marked our tomb together we face each others fears and doom

and as we turn around and see the curdled brotherian lying in its crippled grim

we won

we won
