

Eternally Girl

Mozart's Sister

Everything comes, and everything goes
A little piece left me now
And lovin' is fun, but who ever knows
If it's gonna stick around
As a little girl
Thought I'd be all grown up by now
But I'm still a little girl
Eternally I could be the one that you love
I could be the one that you love
I will be the one that you love
One that you love
Life's no fun, if you can't feel the beat
Anybody can tell you that
And standing still, only hurt my feet
I'd rather lie on my back
Looking at the sky, I see our stories intertwine
And they part with no goodbye
Eternally I could be the one that you love
I could be the one that you love
I will be the one that you love
One that you love Eternally girl
And you're eternally boy
Eternally girl
I'm eternally girl
And you're eternally boy
You're eternally girl
And I'm eternally boy
We're eternally girl
(Oh, be the, be the)
I could be the one that you love
I could be the one that you love
I will be the, be the, be the
One that you love
I could be the one that you love
I will be the one that you love
One that you love
