More Than Ever

Evergrey

Time for a breather, let it all sink in

A pause from the deceiver and to reach deep within

I close my eyes if only for a second to let my courage rise

All I need is one more reason to fail you as you failed meWaiting for the waves to break

Hoping for the tide to change

Embracing the awaiting aim

Believing more than ever

Believing more than everI've tried too many times to leave you

Just as many times as I've cried to see you

Every road has its end and my end's here

And so does my faithWaiting for the waves to break

Hoping for the tide to change

Embracing the awaiting aim

Believing more than ever
