Cold December

Clear Cut

Those nights we walk together
I couldn't sleep
Well I still remember what you wore now It was the cold december air the way the rain hit your hair but then I woke up from a dream I can't repair and then realized how far I'd finally come Well the damage that's been made The hurt I've caused can never be erased only until now can we disappear
Now
I walked alone some nights thinking of the songs we laid your soul to rest
This disillusion comforts me I wait for you sometimes but always feel my life is flashing way to fast We never had a second chance
So when was my place branded faithless lost again
faithless lost my friend I will never trust and label death as my only defense
I will never trust again
label death as my only defense
I will never love again
I still remember when your

You were found and we were bored let's live one more time I've made my way this life's taken so much time to manufacture grace

I feel the darkness fall
I can remember times when so much Love and hate made something more than Haste
It made me push you more So when are we supposed to leave this place
Why you not me
So when were we supposed to climb on top of grace From your cold hands and your dead eyes
From your cold
Hands I Cry
I still remember that cold december
