

Don't Let Me Break Your Heart Again

Turbo Fruits

girl, when you walked in through the back door, really go me going,
I just don't know if I could know,
But there is no way of knowing,
I shoulda walked away but I wanted to stay,
And I know,
Know you start to think when you start to drink,
Oh I know,
Dont' let me break your heart again, Don't let me break your heart again,
We been here a million times before,
Something bout you that I can't ignore,
Yes its easier to pretend, we don't know what we're doing,
Next say its easier to say when we both end up losing,
I shoulda run away but you begged me to stay and I know,
I shoulda stayed in line cause I'm wasting your time but you know,
Don't let me break your heart again, Don't let me break your heart again,
We've been here a million times before,
Something bout you that I can't ignore,
Always play into each others games,
Chasing memorys, never feels the same,
you're crowding my head, and I got my doubts,
Cause never say I could get you out,
Wanted me to stay but now I'm running away and I know,
Once you play the game nothings ever the same, oh I know,
We've been here a million times before,
Something bout you that I can't ignore,
Don't let me break your heart again, Don't let me break your heart again.
