Politicians

D.L. Hughley

Everything is broken, everything is broken
Everything is breaking down, breaking down
Everything is bleeding, everything is bleeding
Everything is breaking down, breaking down
A pledge allegiance to a country without borders, without politicians
Watching for my sky to get torn apart
We are broken, we are bitter, we're the problem, we're the politicians
Watching for our sky to get torn apart, c'mon and break me
Entropy and aching, where have we been aiming?
Everything is fading out, fading out
We are the faded, splitted and sedated
Everything is fading out, fading out

A pledge allegiance to a country without borders, without politicians
Watching for my sky to get torn apart
We are broken, we are bitter, we're the problem, we're the politicians
Watching for our sky to get torn apart, c'mon and break me
C'mon and break me
A pledge allegiance to a country without borders, without politicians
Politicians, politicians
I am broken, I am bitter, I'm the problem, I'm the politician
Watching for my sky to get torn apart, c'mon and break me
C'mon and break me
