

Just Listen

Two Hours Traffic

she don't need a lover right now she needs a friend, a shoulder stop thinking about yourself and just listen
consider this your mission it's not your turn to speak what good is a lover right now?
she needs a rock, a boulder both silent and strong so please listen
consider her position and will you be there when she's feeling down?
when she needs you will you be around?
when she's crying are you gonna hide?
did she run when you cried? she doesn't need a lover right now she needs your hand, some comfort don't worry about yourself and just listen
consider this your mission
and will you be there when she's feeling down?
did she run when you cried?
forget all your suspicion
consider this your mission
it's not your turn to speak
