I've had you on my mind a lot these days
I just can't let you go
It's been so long since I have seen your face (it'll never get old)
Wherever did I go?
OhCause I don't want to disappoint you
Cause I don't want to let you down againJust give me one more chance to see you
Just give me one more breath to breathe with you
Give me one more day
Give me one last try
Give me one more chance
I'll use it right for you
For youWhere everyone has gone and you are all that's left
That's where I want to be
So many things get in the way
And hold me back from you
This time I want things rightCause I don't want to disappoint you
Cause I don't want to let you down againJust give me one more chance to see you
Just give me one more breath to breathe with you
Give me one more day
Give me one last try
Give me one more chance
I'll use it right for you
For youSo many times I run and try, to get away from you
So afraid of what you see in me
So many things I want to say, but there locked up inside
And only you have the keyJust give me one more chance to see you
Just give me one more breath to breathe with you
Give me one more day (one more day)
Give me one last try (one last try)
Give me one more chance (last try)
I'll use it right for you (for you)
For you
