

Little Fighter

Anand Bhatt

Are you cryin' tonight, are you
 Feelin' alright
I'll tell the world that you are,
 Down on your luck, you were
 One of the kind
 One who'd never give in
Even when they put a price on your headHas anyone heard the tales you tell
 Or seen the scars you wear
 Did anyone speak up when you fell
Does anybody careRise again little fighter
 And let the world know the reason why
 Shine again little fighter
And don't let 'em end the things you doAnd you were one with a cause,
 And a reason to be
 You were a fighter for peace
 On this earth
 And you were never afraid
 You put your life on the line
 And you were always alone
Out on the seaWithouta' weapon in your hand
 You came to fight a war
 They took your life, but didn't know
That you would never dieRise again little fighter
 And let the world know the reason why
 Shine again little fighter
 And don't let 'em end the things you do
