

She's Got a New Spell

Billy Bragg

What is that sound?
Where is it coming from?
All around
What are you running from? Something you don't understand
Something you cannot command That's how I know
That she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell What's going down
Who's moved this room from 'round me?
Where is it gone?
I fear this night will drown me So I lie awake all night
'Cos I can't sleep with something I can't fight And she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell The laws of gravity are very, very strict
And you're just bending them for your own benefit The laws of gravity are very, very strict
And you're just bending them for your own benefit One minute she says
And she's gone to get the cat in
The next thing I know
She's mumbling in Latin She cut the stars out of the sky
And baked them in a pie That's how I know
That she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell She stole the scene and the scenery
The script and the machinery That's how I know
That she's got a new spell
Yeah, that's how I know
That she's got a new spell

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>