

Crocodile Scars

Chicosci

IT Started in an old garage with friends who never knew the ride they were about to take the feeling they never outgrew what happens
when you give it all?
the life the blood
the heart and soul
no better time than now
the lost boys found out

take a breath, hold tight
and swing away
told ourselves we'd be alright
it's never too late

an audience of none
they held us down,
they pushed us back
striking
till we were blue and black never question
coz we gave it all
the life, the blood
the rise and fall
no better time than now

and swing away

We'll scream for you again and again because of you this all makes sense this makes so much sense
