

Writing on the Wall

Social Distortion

There was a time when you were proud
You looked up to me with big eyes
And I could do no wrong
There's something inside
That's clearly tearing both of us apart
Oh, there's something insideI wonder where you are, tonight
And what you did with your day
Can't find the words to say
Did you feel the sun?
Did you feel the warmth of my heart
Oh, did you feel at all?They say if you love someone you gotta let them go
And if they return to you that's surely how you'll know
Oh, I can read the writing on the wall
Oh, but I can't let goThey say if you love someone you gotta let them go
And if they return to you that's surely how you'll know
Oh, I can read the writing on the wall
Oh, but I can't let goI'm hopelessly aware
Of the good and the bad traits we share
It's like looking at myself
And I know that at times
I could've handled things differently
Oh, but know my intentions were wellThey say if you love someone, you gotta let them go
And if they return to you that's surely how you'll know
Oh, I can read the writing on the wall
Oh, but I can't let goOh, I can't let go
Oh, I can't let go
Oh, I can't let go
Oh, I can't let go

Songwriters

Michael NessPublished by

GOODBYE CRUEL WORLD MUSIC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damlyrics.com/>