Fall Apart, Golden Heart

Device

Terror terror you're terrified
Our minds meet two worlds collide
Sometimes I don't know why
The simple truth is a bitch to find

So how can you tell me
you won't just run away?
And how can I tell you 'stay'?

When you fall apart golden heart
Too late too late too late to start
Fall apart golden heart
Too bad you had to fall so hard

Your eyes are open you follow blind
The look is you but the thoughts are mine
Too many reasons why you never tried
The simple truth is you're hard to find
So where are those endless roads that lead to you?
And where would they take me to?

If you fall apart golden heart
Too late too late too late to start
Fall apart golden heart
Too bad you had to fall so hard

It's a needle in the heart when you fall in Love
So deep cut close to the bone
I can feel I can feel each transfer
It's a heart, solid gold... love

So how can you tell me
you won't just run away?
And how can I tell you 'stay'?

When you fall apart golden heart
Too late too late too late to start
Fall apart golden heart

Too bad you had to fall so hard

You wanna hold on to someone
You wanna hold on to someone
You better hold on to someone You gotta hold on to someone to someone
