Whatever Happened to Your Smile

Poco

You said you'd walk up to me any day
You'd come laughing all the while
You'd sit by me and we'd talk about today
Whatever happened to your smileKeeping your word you've come to me like a stray
Now I've been witness to a trial
And I feel as though it was only yesterday
Whatever happened to your smileWhatever happened to your smile
The look upon your face, the sparkle in your eyes
The way you'd laugh but for a while
Whatever happened to your smile
Whatever happened to your smileI do believe that you will not allow Yourself to feel like a child
And I know it's hard to live for the here and now
But, whatever happened to your smileNow that you've come I guess you'll be on your way
And you'll be travelin' many a mile
But when you're back I hope that I won't have to say
Whatever happened to your smileWhatever happened to your smile
The look upon your face, the sparkle in your eyes
The way you'd laugh but for a while
Whatever happened to your smile
