

Left For Dead

Red Sun Rising

Today was not a good day
I forced myself to smile to pretend
But look at you
Can barely say our names
Because of you
We are all estranged And now you will regret
That you left us here for dead
Now you're praying that we're all ok
And we're praying you'll come back some day Now look at you
You can't even say our names
Look at you
Confused why you left anyway
So soon you'll regret everything
Look at you
Left us all for dead when you walked away
Before the sun even went down
You said I love you by letting us down And now you will regret
That you left us here for dead
Now you're praying that we're all ok
You told us when you left
It'd be only for a day
Now you're praying that we're all ok
And we're praying you'll come back some day But you can't even say our names
Look at you
So soon you'll regret everything
But soon you'll regret everything
But look at you
You left us all
And I must confess
I could not of loved you less
Confess
You could not have loved us less
Confess
You left us all for dead
You left us all for dead
You left us all You can't even say our names
Look at you

So soon you'll regret everything
But soon you'll regret everything
But look at you
You left us all
Now look at you
You left us all And now you will regret
That you left us here for dead
Now you praying that we're all ok
You told us when you left
It'd be only for a day
Now praying that we're all ok
Now you're praying that we're all ok
