

Labor

Small Sur

Oh, I swear Iâ€™ll find even more light in this coming year.
And the darkness will subside
or bring focus unto the light.

I will build a shrine
and within
place my present mind.
Shaped from water,
a burn earth,
I will favor my lover over others.

I will be inspired
by my friends,
by all questions.
And in the meantime
I will work.
I will labor for my lover,
for my mother.
