In Walks The Night

Heart

The night is falling like an angel on your memory
And we are well acquainted, we are sworn enemies
And the lonely beating of my heart tonight
Is only one more thing I gotta fight
Well, I think about you baby
The days of heaven that we had
Then I get to thinking maybe
Maybe too much thinking's bad
Well, my mind takes no prisoners, pities no one
Spares not even me till the harm is done
Here I go again, the night just walked in
In walks the night, in walks my fantasy
Darkness all around me
And I'm dying for the light
I reach down for a little strength deep inside
Well, I know I love my freedom
But lonely feelings come and go
And night time is a season
How I feel the cold wind blow
And I toss and I turn and I walk the floor
I don't wanna cry, don't wanna cry no more
Here I go again, the night just walked in
In walks the night, in walks my fantasy
Darkness all around me
And I'm dying for the light
I reach down for a little strength deep inside

(In walks the night)
I reach down for my sanity
Oh, if only these eyes could see
Through all the emptiness I found around me
In walks the night
I can almost feel you in the darkness all around
Still I'm waiting for the break of day
Waiting for a miracle, a dream that won't wander away
Well, my mind takes no prisoners, pities no one
It spares not even me till the harm is done
Here I go again, the night just walked in
In walks the night, in walks my fantasy

Darkness all around me
And I'm dying for the light
I reach down for a little strength deep inside
(In walks the night)
I reach down for my sanity
Oh, if only these eyes would see
Through all the emptiness I found around me
In walks the night
The night just walked in
In walks the night
The night just walked in
Maybe I'll be all right
In walks the night
