

Daylight

Maximilian Hecker

I can see the daylight
And I feel it's right
That she's flowing now
She's flowing 'til it's through
A never-ending darkness
A never-ending night
Now she flies away
To walk upon the clouds

Silly laughing when I come home
There's just no reason to call
I try to leave you to forget you
I try to leave you to love you

Can you hear me singing?
Can you see me lying
Down on the floor
Still laughing like a child?
My head is full of voices
My head is full of lights
So please let me go
Please let me run away
