

Moses in Me

8th Day

Knock knock, Pharaohâ€™s at my door
Oh, he still comes around
He changed his name but I can hear his sound
Knock Knock, Pharaohâ€™s at my door
Heâ€™s bringing slavery
To tie my hands, to blind my eyes to see
But Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me
Iâ€™ve got the power, power to break free
This bloody river is gonna split before me
Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me

Knock knock, Pharaohâ€™s at my door
Oh he still comes around he changed his name but I can hear his sound
Knock knock, sorrowâ€™s at my door
He wants to drown my faith
To push me down and hold me to the floor
But Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me
Iâ€™ve got the power, power to break free
This bloody river is gonna split before me
Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me
Yes Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me
Iâ€™ve got the power, power to break free
This bloody river is gonna split before me
Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me

No gate is high enough to keep me from my land
This desertâ€™s burnin up I think you understand
No Pharaohâ€™s big enough to tell me what to do
Iâ€™ve seen you workin hard and I believe in you

Cuz Iâ€™ve got a little bit of Moses in me
