Rat Room

Tila Tequila

locked up all by myself in this small room feel the ignition twists lights out over and down with it. everybody leaving me tired and hopeless loud noises ringing into my head feels like i'm hanging with the dead cold air blowing into my face so i tried to light up the fireplace

do you know what that feels like
everyone is out to get me

jane says she wants to come out and play destroy everything that i made maybe i should just let her win tired of fighting tired from deep within eyes shut she just won't go away get help thats what my friends would say but i can't i will just let her be because jane is actually only me only me only me

jane says she wants to come jane says she wants to come out and play jane says she wants to come out and play

get help that what my friends would say but i can't i will just let her be

do you know that that feels like
